

Population Makes Large Increase

St. Catharines City Gains 2,000 Over Last Year—10,000 Increase in Past 10 Years.

The largest single gain in St. Catharines' population ever to be recorded was announced Saturday by Assessment Commissioner M. H. Laird. An increase of almost 2,000 persons sent the total population up to 34,541, the largest ever.

The 1942 census showed a population of 32,569, and while the past 12 months has brought a gain of almost 2,000, Commissioner Laird said there is no doubt but that there are at least 5,000 persons residing in suburbs immediately outside St. Catharines, who would have taken up residence in the city if homes had been available.

In the past 10 years the population has gained almost eight thousand since the outbreak of war. The 1933 population, Mr. Laird recalled, was 26,394 and in 1939, the year war broke out, it was 27,736.

The assessment officer also believes that there will be a substantial gain in the assessment figures for this financial survey being announced later.

Grimsby Boy Gets The Copy Through

Writing from Allied Headquarters in Sicily, Maurice Desjardins, a Canadian Press correspondent with the Canadian troops, says:

"The copy must get through."

"Canadian front line copy boys" have kept that in mind while riding their motorcycles under enemy fire on back breaking roads, acting as a first link between the news of the fighting Canadians and the people back home."

Desjardins tells of some hair-breadth experiences of some of the boys and also gives a list of the lads that are handling this job.

In the list is the name of Pte. Cliff Hunt of Grimsby, son of Samuel and Mrs. Hunt, now temporarily residing in Brantford. Cliff has been overseas for over three years.

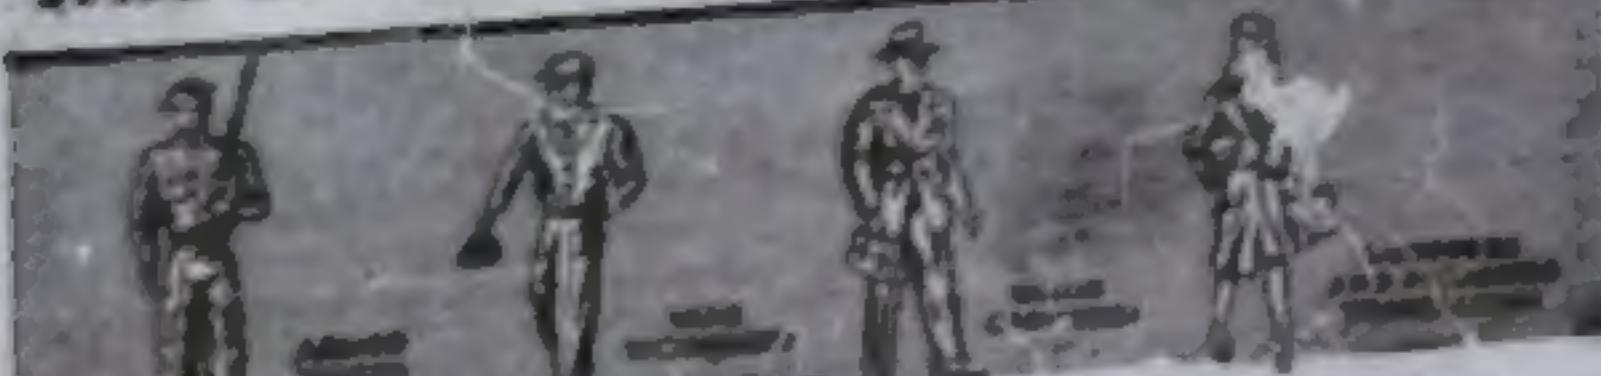

A Wartime Prices and Trade Board order which became effective August 11, makes it illegal for a merchant to require a customer to buy additional goods when buying other goods that are in short supply. Exceptions are made for any practices of this nature that were established during or before the basic period, September 15—October 11, 1941. This order does not apply to goods which are distributed under provincial direction, such as alcoholic beverages.

Canada's new coupon ration book, the third to be issued since the war began, contains a thought which should be borne in mind by all Canadians who are anxious to live up to the spirit of rationing. It is this: "In wartime, goods are rationed because of the selfish or unnecessary carrying of some at the expense of others' essential needs. The utmost conservation of supplies is necessary. You should regard this ration book as a permit to buy rationed goods if you need them—not otherwise. It does not entitle you to purchase rationed commodities for the use of non-war areas unless he resides in your household."

Police will pick up all bicycles found on the side walks and they will be impounded for any period of time that they deem fit, from three days to three weeks.

Council will view the sidewalk and boulevard at the corner of Main and Depot streets, at the Eaton order office with the idea in mind of widening this spot by at least five feet. This widening would extend down Depot street as far as the residence of Samuel Levine. The widening of this corner would not be an expensive job and would make it one of the safest corners in town.

County Clerk Millward notified council that Grimsby had a credit balance at County of $1,234. This was brought about by the fact that the Town prepaid its 1943 County Rate in January last. In August the County Rate was struck at a reduced rate under 1942, hence the balance. This money will be retained by County council until December 30th. On suggestion of Mayor Johnson council agreed to notifying Clerk Millward to retain said money until January first for application on the 1944 County Rate.

Collections of all taxes, arrears, penalties and current, from January first to August 31st total $45,286.10.

Council acknowledged letter of invitation received from Rev. J. Allan Ballard inviting members of council to attend service at St. Andrew's on Sunday last.

August Police report showed no court cases; complaints investigated 33; three men apprehended for Camp Borden Military District; one stolen bicycle recovered; one break-in; two car accidents; four dogs, nine cats for Humane Officer; dog tax collected, $10.00.

Resignation of Leslie Blanchard as school traffic officer was accepted.

A building lot on Fairview ave.

was authorized to be sold to Robt. Cosby, no house to be built on same.

William W. Turner was sold a lot on Fairview avenue, no house to be built on same.

Relief accounts for August amounting to $43.00 were ordered paid.

Council adjourned to meet on Wednesday night, September 15th.

WILL GIVE LABOR

relations and determine what amendments are needed. Organized labor representatives will be on this committee for the presentation of a fact-finding report on the remodeling of the labor-and-management situation.

The Minister made the announcement during his first public address since becoming a member of the Ontario Cabinet, he spoke after 2,500 members of Toronto District Council marched to Sunnyside Beach to stage their Labor Day celebration. Mr. Daley said he was in favor of labor organizations and the right of a worker to choose his own organization.

"We want unions strong not only in numbers, but in the spirit of justice, fair play and co-operation," said the speaker. "We want to preserve the incentive of private initiative, on which this country has become great. What labor wants is steady work at fair wages under good conditions, a greater amount of security against sickness and old age, a fair share of the fruits of their labor. I am making a careful study of the Workmen's Compensation Act to see what worthwhile amendments may be made to improve what every one must admit is an excellent piece of legislation."

Mr. Daley paid tribute to the great contribution which labor has made, and is making toward the war effort. He pointed out that workers are making the tools of war that are being used with such success by their sons overseas.

"My friends have counseled me, and say: 'They gave you a tough job,'" the Labor Minister said. They may be right. There is a middle course to be followed that will give us reforms, but will not create upheaval. I will be fair to you as labor men and to management. If you suggest things that are fair, reasonable and just, I will fight for you; if not, I will fight against you. I ask labor to carry on and achieve results, not by strikes or stoppages, but by discussion in committee room. I will give labor a fair break."

Salvage Needed

Do I deserve these things I call my own?

Have I considered ought but me and me alone?

My theme song thru these years of strife,

How little can I give and save my life.

Asks Grape Men To Play Fair

The Beamsville-Vineland local of the Niagara Grape Growers held its annual meeting last week and elected the following officers:

President, Richard Morley; secretary, Doc Cressman; treasurer, David Stevens; executive committee, Ray Stone, Don Jory, John Porter, D. H. Laundry; representatives on central executive, A. W. Smith, Lorrie Hill.

President Morley told the members to be careful about selling their grapes and to wait for a definite price.

The delegation that recently went to Ottawa, he stated, had secured a price of $20 a ton for wine grapes, but the basket price would be settled later.

Mr. Morley, he stated, that this local could have the patronage of every winery in Ontario next year if the members played fair.

NEW RENTAL ORDER EFFECTIVE OCT. 1

Greater certainty of the new position for both tenant and landlord is the object of the new rental regulations which become effective October 1. Among the changes effected by the order are: the minimum notice to vacate is reduced from 12 to six months; applications for increased rental will be considered only where the tenant is receiving more value for his rent; general simplification of conditions under which a purchaser may secure possession of accommodation without undue hardship on the tenant, appointment of local rental appraisers who will deal with applications for change in rents.

SPIRIT OF RATION "BUY ONLY NEEDS"

Canada's new coupon ration book, the third to be issued since the war began, contains a thought which should be borne in mind by all Canadians who are anxious to live up to the spirit of rationing. It is this: "In wartime, goods are rationed because of the selfish or unnecessary carrying of some at the expense of others' essential needs. The utmost conservation of supplies is necessary. You should regard this ration book as a permit to buy rationed goods if you need them—not otherwise. It does not entitle you to purchase rationed commodities for the use of non-war areas unless he resides in your household."

LIFE OF ROOKIE RECRUIT IS NOT TOO TOUGH A ONE

Everything is Strange And twelve miles after a few weeks of mysterious But he Soon conditioning. Learns That it is Not as Bad as he Had Pictured.

THOSE N.C.O.'s

First Two Miles With Full Kit Are The Hardest, soon Does 10 or 12 Miles And Thinks it is Play.

A three hooker, sergeant to you, paces the station platform in the best manual of elementary drill style, and watches as the train fills to the last coach spews forth its cargo of raw recruits.

This is the first glimpse of the new life to begin, that the rookie gets, upon detraining at a basic training centre. Milling around the platform, straightening packs and straps with a wary eye upon the sergeant, the rookie tries to make up his mind whether he is going to like army life all the while keeping up a steady stream of talk on the turn to European situation with tales, now that he is in the army.

Out of the seemingly chaotic noise and confusion the stentorian voice of the sergeant knives through, "Line up in three ranks . . . Come on, on the double". As if by magic the noise ceases and three ranks are formed up the full length of the platform. Anxious eyes search the face of the man next to him wondering what the next move will be. Inasmuch as the man next to him has a peculiar blank expression on his face, the rookie then turns to the man on his left where he once again encounters no sign of what may be awaiting.

Resignedly the rookie, formerly an office worker, a factory worker or perhaps a professional man, assumes the same expression and waits.

He is rudely awakened from his blank reverie by the bagpipes in the process of being tuned up. Together with the bugle and bugle with a.c.o.'s flying all over the place taking up position in front and behind the latest batch of recruits. The officer in charge of the party of men gives the command to quick march and the recruits enter on the final stage which leads them into the basic training centre.

By the time the camp is reached the rookie has had his first taste of what it is like to man it in full kit. To shoulders that up to now have felt no weight except that caused by carrying a suitcase to the station for the annual summer holiday it is no mean feat to negotiate the two miles from the station to the camp. There's A Skunk SOMEWHERE IN GRIMSBY

Somewhere in Grimsby and district there is a dirty low lived skunk. A two-footed one that is even dirtier and lower than the four-footed breed of that name.

This skunk sometime during the shopping hours of last Saturday visited Smith's shoe store and while Mr. and Mrs. Smith were busy, STOLE the money from the Cigarette Fund jar and made off unnoticed by anyone. Fortunately there was not a very large sum in the jar, but still enough to buy a couple of hundred cigarettes for some Grimsby boy on a battle front fighting to keep a lone of this kind alive.

It was no little kid with visions of ice cream cones and all-day suckers who did this job, as the jar was sitting up too high for even a fair sized kid to reach.

A person that would pull a stunt of this kind is worse than a skunk. He or she is a full blooded relation to Adolph Hitler.

Town Council held a special meeting last night to clean up some unfinished business.

Reeve Durham and the Road
Committee of North Grimsby visited council regarding the Maintenance of Lake street east from Maple Avenue.

Mayor Johnson explained to council that at a late hour on Wednesday afternoon he had unearthed an old agreement between the Town and the Township re the upkeep of Lake street.

According to the agreement
Grimsby is to maintain 147 feet of the street from the easterly line of Maple Avenue to the easterly side of the gates entering the Lake Lodge property. The balance of the street to be maintained by the Township. This was satisfactory to township officials.

The Mayor stated that Superintendent of Works Lawrie had already been instructed to make necessary repairs.

LOCAL CLINIC 2 YEARS OLD

In That Time Close to 1,000
Plasmas Have Been Donated — Seven Clinics in Hamilton — Three in Grimsby — Many Donations Made Privately.

TEMPORARY HOSPITAL

One Hundred And Twenty-five Donors Will be Accepted
This Time — Will Hold
Clinic Every Month From Now Until Next June.

Two years ago now the first Grimsby Blood Donors' Clinic was held in Hamilton. Since that time seven clinics, sponsored by Grimsby Chamber of Commerce, have been held in Hamilton and Grimsby.

To date very close to 1,000
plasmas have been given by Grimsby and North Grimsby residents, through these clinics. How many private donations have been made is not known, but they are considerable.

The next Grimsby clinic will be held in Trinity hall, on Wednesday, September 29th, commencing at 1:30 p.m. when 125 plasmas will be taken.

From now until next June there will be a clinic every month, on the last Wednesday in the month. In order to have 125 donors for each clinic the committee in charge are desirous of hearing from volunteers, not only from Grimsby, but from Beamsville and Smithville, also.

Local doctors and local registered nurses will be in charge of the clinic and the hall will again be turned into a temporary hospital
by the Metal Craft Co.

For this clinic notices will be sent out to all donors listed, advising them of the time their presence is required at the hall.

Ladies from the various local organizations will again be in charge of the clinic dining room and strengthening movement will be provided.

Minister Of Labor Resigns As Mayor

Charles Daley Relinquishes Position As Chief Magistrate Of The Garden City —
Pressure of Ministerial Duties Tie Cause.

Because of the pressure of his duties as Ontario Labor Minister, Charles Daley, M.P.P. has resigned
as Mayor of St. Catharines. Ald.
Dr. Mc Donald will complete the term as Mayor.

Mayor Daley, despite his resignation before the completion of his 2nd term, will establish a record for length of service as mayor of St. Catharines. He will have been in office four years, eight months, and 23 days, compared to four years, seven months and 26 days that the late Jacob Smith held office as mayor here.

The only previous resignation of a mayor in this city's history was in May, 1923, when E. J. Lovelace resigned to contest a federal election.

On May 3, Jacob Smith in a five-man contest was elected mayor and in the succeeding years 1924-1927, inclusive, he was chief magistrate.

After four years as an alderman,
Mayor Daley was defeated in his first bid for the mayor's office in 1933. Elected in 1939 he has been returned each year since. The peak of his public career was reached on August 4 when he was elected Lincoln County's representative at Queen's Park and a few days later

Defenders Of The Faith

Were you able to figure out who the young warriors in this picture were and what unit they represented? This photo was taken in August, 1901—11 years ago—by Grimsby's then photographer, W. P. S. Millward. The place was the old Cricket Club grounds on Livingston avenue where the cannery factory now is. This unit was the Grimsby Cadets, a self-contained body of kids affiliated with no military or civil organization. They ran their own show. "Major" Frank "Jake" Hill was the guiding spirit behind movement. A large percentage of these kids served in the First Great War. The "Major" stands at the left of the group. He is now a member of Hamilton police force. Read from left to right in the back row are: xAlbert Philippe; xGeorge House; xLuisell Forman; xAmrose Ferry; James Gowland; xAbraham Wright; xCharles Snyder; xMason Drury; Melville VanDyke; xBert Mahey. Front row, kneeling: xRoy Hewitt; Gordon Dale; J. Orion Livingston; xStanley Plain; xTiddie Forrester; Frank VanDyke. On the gun carriage: Kenneth Mahey and Charles Burland. xWhereabouts unknown; xdeceased. Only two of this bunch are now living in Grimsby—Livingston and Gowland. The uniforms were the cast off red tunics and trousers and service caps of "B" Company 44th Reg't, given to the kids by the late Major W. F. Gibson and Major W. W. Kidd. The "gun carriage" was the rear wheels and reach of an old lumber wagon and the gun barrel was an old verandah post bored out and painted black.

Hitch Hiking Is A Tough Job Now

Took Two Ottawa Lads Two Days And A Half to Get to Grimsby — 50 Miles Was Longest Ride.

That gasoline and rubber restrictions have cut down automobile travel to a minimum is attested to by two young Ottawa boys, Maurice Tremblay and Sylvia Lavergne, who recently hitch-hiked from the Capital city to Grimsby.

The lads state that they received plenty of rides in cars and on trucks but they were all short hauls. The longest distance that they rode in one conveyance being slightly under 50 miles. They were two days and a half making the trip.

The boys came up to this district to help in the crop harvest and are working for Merritt I. — They are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Leo and Mrs. Dao-ist, Main street west.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

WORK NEVER KILLED ANYBODY

I was sitting in the Sanctum Sanctorum the other evening and a good friend of mine, a real dirt farmer, came in the door. He remarked "don't you ever quit work". I replied "no, neither does a farmer."

What is the difference between that farmer friend and myself? None. He labors from daylight to dark to produce food to feed the populace, belly-wise, and I work from dark to daylight to produce food to feed the populace, mentally.

The one difference between him and me is that he had to bring a carload of grain from Western Canada to feed his food producing animals, while I can stand on Main street and gather up in 15 minutes enough fodder to feed the populace for a month. They supply it themselves. Mother Nature and hard work had to produce his grain feed.

FENCE-CORNER CHURCHILL

The farmer was getting old, but he had to work hard because in this year there was no one else to do the work.

"I've been thinking about Churchill," he said, leaning against a fence post and sharpening his hoe. "It's been puzzling me how he can keep up such a pace and still look spry. Now I've maybe found the answer. Churchill is used to these strains and excitements. He's been in the midst of them all his life. In a lot of ways he is like me.

You see, I can still hoe more in a day than any of these city men that have come out to help us. They are willing enough, but they aren't used to the work. They don't get the most out of the hoe with the least effort. They don't save themselves with little tricks that a man learns when he's hoeing year after year.

But Churchill and I—we're used to it. That's how we manage to keep going full tilt and even have time to smile."

WINNIE WEARS A NIGHTGOWN

Biggest news that came out of the Quebec conference appeared in a special despatch in the Windsor Star—Mrs. Winston Churchill bought five nightgowns in a Quebec store. That is a disclosure of terrific import. Those nightgowns could not all have been for herself. Never in all the course of human history could so many be worn by so few. It must be that Winnie himself wears 'em.

Says the Midland Free Press: "Like the vast majority of British prime ministers from Junius Caesar down the greatest of all war leaders in all probability goes to bed in a nightgown instead of in one of these modern, sleep destroying contraptions they call pajamas."

We miss our guess if five men in the whole bally lot habitually slept in anything else than a good old fashioned nightshirt. Some may question the statement that Julius Caesar was a British prime minister.

All will admit, however that he ruled England away back in the days when history began. No one can deny that he wore nightgowns. Shakespeare is authority for that. Just turn to the play "Julius Caesar" and at the opening of Act Two Scene Two, you will find these words: "A room in Caesar's Palace. Thunder and Lightning. Enter Caesar in his Nightgown." Then Old Julius declares that "Nor heaven nor earth have been at peace tonight." That was not because he was wearing a nightgown, but in spite of it.

"John Marshall of the Windsor Star says there is no clue to what nightgear Mr. Churchill uses. That is just where he is wrong. If Mrs. Churchill buys 'em, why Winnie wears 'em. Every married man understands that. She may order him to don pajamas on the train, or even at the Chateau Frontenac. But it is a safe bet that when he gets home to the seclusion of No. 10 Downing street he tosses the darn things into a corner and calls for a good old fashioned night gown. A man has some rights when he gets back from the streets, the lanes, the beaches and the landing fields.

"Why are we so dead certain that Winnie wears nightgowns? A Canadian Press despatch from Quebec tells why he likes to wear "siren suits"—rather than ordinary street clothes. Said a British official: He says it's much easier to step into one of those suits and pull a zipper to get dressed than to go to all the bother of putting on a shirt, collar and tie.

That being the case can one imagine Winnie going to the trouble of donning a two piece pair of pyjamas, buttoning up the coat and tying the string of the pantaloons around his rotund middle, when he could by a single motion pull a nightgown over his head? And, anyway, how could he be happy with a cord tied round his tummy? Some of those birds who wear pajamas because they think it fashionable may possibly have the courage to go back to nightgowns, now that it is known that Mrs. Churchill bought five of them."

PRIZE PUMPKINS AND PRETTY MAIDENS

Who has not at some time or other been a visitor to a country fair? He who has not has missed half the joy of living. Has missed the human touch and contact that goes with a visit to that firest of all rural institutions.

In my day as a kid, the country fair was a real institution. It lagged for a few years but for the past five years has been coming back into its own as a meeting place for all. Where the boy and girl who left the farm for the big city came back to meet his country cousins and oftentimes stayed to take up the life of an agriculturist again. The place where all were one and one for all. The building ground for our 1914-18 and our present great Canadian fighting forces.

It is more than ever important that our country fairs in Ontario operate this year. They bring together our own folk and also the folk from the distant towns and cities. They talk things over. Get one another's views and on the whole benefit generally. The farmer learns to understand the city guy a little bit better and the city fellow gets his peepers opened a whole lot.

In this connection let me quote from that excellent little paper, edited by a lady, The Elora Express:

The country fairs are going to miss the "hot dogs" this season, and the variety of entertainment has been growing less through the past four years. But mother and grandmother will still be showing fruit and baking and needlework, maybe less of it. They will still want to meet and compare notes as to the relative possibilities of war time recipes and to exchange the latest news-of-news-in-England-and-in-North-Africa-and-Sicily.

There will still be cattle and hogs; poultry and horses, for all these are more than ever important today, and while keep in scarce and time is at a premium, it will do everybody good to take a day off to "see the fair" and to meet distant cousins and relatives who have had scant time for the usual summer visiting.

Certainly it is one place where town and country still meet and do, for once in the season, compare the blows which outrageous fortune has dealt them during the year since the last fair sponsored their meeting. It is a matter for genuine sorrow that some fairs have had to discontinue for the duration and we feel that it would be to the advantage of the country as a whole if they were to receive some assistance to enable them to carry on.

Fortunately the casualties have been few and the list of fairs for Ontario looks as though there will be many good exhibitions before cold weather writes fair to this annual harvest pageant of our province.

The lady editor speaks of the politicians and members of parliament visiting the fair. Well do I remember meeting the late Senator "Willy" Gibson and the late E. A. Lancaster, K.C. on the fair grounds of Smithville, Beamsville, Wellandport, Abingdon, Binbrook, etc., shaking hands with the populace. They knew their people. The people knew them.

The downfall of our recent parliamentary representatives is traceable, to a great extent, to their lack of knowledge of the people they represent. I hope our two local representatives pay heed.

For their benefit I might mention that Beamsville, Smithville, Wellandport and Abingdon are all holding fairs this year. I will mail them the dates if they wish. Any way let's you and I go to the fairs.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

Note:—Canadian National Express Co. have been using women express messengers on their fruit trains this year.—Ed.

During the past fifty odd years the fruit industry in this section has developed in leaps and bounds. It has developed so fast that many people think that it has always been as it is. Little realizing how short a time the present system has been in vogue.

In the year 1880 or 85 years ago all the fruit that went out of this district was loaded on the regular passenger trains going west at eight o'clock in the morning and six o'clock at night. In those days there was not even an express car on the trains to handle the fruit. All express matter was handled in one end of the baggage car and it was into this end that the fruit went. In the early eighties all the express business over the majority of railways in Ontario was handled by the American Express Co.

The late H. E. Nelles (father of Mrs. J. W. Wilson of Grimsby) was post master in Grimsby those days and also agent for the American Express Co. In 1886 the late Edward Lawrence, brother of Mrs. A. F. Hawke, went to work for Mr. Nelles handling express matter and he killed all the fruit that left this station. At that time the fruit growers would arrive at the station and every load had to be counted over and killed separately by Mr. Lawrence as there were no individual books in use then.

In 1881 the express company decided in the month of August to put a freight car on the regular trains for the handling of the fruit. This car came right through from Niagara Falls on the train, and the agents at the different points along the line just piled the fruit in the doorways and let it stay there with the consequence that when the train reached Grimsby all this fruit in the doorways had to be moved before the Grimsby fruit could be gotten in, as Grimsby in those days just the same as now was the largest shipping point on the line.

One day the day train pulled in and the doorways were blocked with fruit. Dr. Arnott, who was then superintendent for this district for the express company was on the train and when he reached the car Mr. Lawrence informed him that he would have to throw the fruit back to get the Grimsby fruit in and then he believed it would be a good idea if he went to Hamilton with the car and piled the fruit back as he went. Dr. Arnott agreed with him and from that day on he used to get the train at Grimsby and pile back fruit all the way to Hamilton and so doing became the first man in Canada to travel on a train in charge of a car load of fruit, or as a fruit messenger as we call them to day.

In September of 1882 it was decided to load a box car partly with fruit at Beamsville then bring it to Grimsby and fill it up and ship it to Montreal. This was the first time that fruit was ever shipped in carload lots and was done twice a week. In the course of two weeks it was decided to load a car entirely of Grimsby fruit and it fell to the lot of Mr. Lawrence to load the first whole car of fruit ever loaded in Grimsby.

On October 1st of that year the Credit Valley Railway was opened and Mr. Lawrence was transferred by the Company to that line and was the express messenger on the first train that ran over the Credit Valley from Toronto to Orangeville. He was not yet twenty-one at this time and was the youngest messenger in the service of the company.

It was not until 1888 that the American Express Company withdrew from Canada and all the railways were taken over by the Canadian Express company, which had been in existence for years and held the rights over the G. T. R. It was in this year also that the Grand Trunk took over the Great Western and other railways. Mr. Lawrence remained with the American Express Company and was transferred to the Buffalo office where he worked out until 1902 when he was forced to retire on account of illness. During that time he handled some of the biggest and best jobs that the company had and more than once handled gold shipments on the Empire and 20th Century trains, the two finest trains on the American Continent.

In the eighteen the fruit was shipped in boxes very similar to the box used at present for the shipping of apples. Boxes of the type used today were unknown for fruit purposes.

It was not until the late nineties that the fruit train came into existence and it was a great many years later before the second fruit train was started.

In the fall of 1900 many growers in this district looked with sceptical eyes on an experiment that was being tried out by one or two progressive growers in the St. Catharines district, that of transporting fruit to the Toronto wholesale market by truck. Trucks then were not the high class type of conveyance that they are today but the experience proved successful and from that day on the truck has gradually become a mighty power in the transportation of fruit. Trucks and trucks have become virtually the main transportation artery in the fruit industry.

Very little fruit is now shipped out by express compared to other years. Carload lots for western Canada and Maritime province points and for export overseas are still being shipped but the distribution of fruit throughout Ontario and some Quebec points is now all handled by trucks. Fruit is taken to all points in the province, as far north as Kirkland Lake and east to Cornwall by this method and it is not uncommon to see trucks from Montreal and Three Rivers in Quebec picking up loads in the district.

It is safe to say that a greater and better distribution of Niagara District products has been attained by the trucking system than by the rail method, which is all a boon to the grower and incidentally shows the rapid strides made in transportation during the past half century.

DISEASED TREES

It is known who owned the dog that did the damage.

Frank Walker of Grimsby wrote council for information regarding who sent a man with team and mower to one of his farms to cut wood. As council did not instruct a man to do the work and as the Wood Inspector did not, the matter was tabled for a month to see if an account for the work will be presented.

C. E. Bonham appeared before council regarding the deplorable condition of Lake street, that portion of it from the old Memorial Gates on the Lake Lodge property west to Maple Avenue.

Mr. Bonham stated that the town claimed that they did not own this piece of road, rather that it belonged to the Township. Township also claim ownership. As a result he (Mr. Bonham) was sitting in between without a decent road to travel over.

The following motion by McChell-Cowan, was passed:

"That the Clerk write the Town council of Grimsby and request them to repair the portion of Lake street, which they have kept up for the past 50 years. That the Road Committee meet the Town council on Sept. 16th."

Public Library was granted $200 on their yearly grant.

Tax Collector J. G. McIntosh reported $1,092.61 arrears of taxes collected in August. This leaves $13,189.28 of arrears still on the books as against $20,152.28 in August, 1942.

Hydro Power Commission wrote council requesting more information regarding their communication re township residents being unable to secure electric power. The information will be supplied.

Clerk Allan was instructed to write a letter of condolence to S. J. and Mrs. Smith, who suffered the loss of their son in the fatal bus accident at Aldershot on Friday night last.

S. F. Ross officially notified council that for years overflow of water from the Ridge Drain had been ruinous to his crops. He asked that the drain be properly fixed and intimated that if there was any further damage to his property he would take legal action. The matter was referred to the Township Engineer.

Joint Fire Committee accounts for $15.30 were passed.

Water consumption in the township in August was: West End, 199,000 gallons; East End, $17,000 gallons.

Township's share of June expense for Grimsby Beach wag-wag on the C.N.R. was $16.51.

Owing to reduction in the County mill rate, North Grimsby receives a credit of $661 on its pre-paid county rate. This money will be left at county for application upon the 1944 county rate.

Township has eight good building lots at Grimsby Beach, a check-up shows. These will be placed on the market at a reasonable figure, providing new houses are built on them.

Edward Brubaker asked relief from council from land being damaged by water backing up in a natural watercourse that is plugged at its outlet. Council will look the situation over.

According to Water Rates' Collector Herb Gillepie there are several defective water meters in the township. There are also some properties where more than one family are occupying the premises but in separate apartments.

Council will have the meters repaired and Collector Gillepie was instructed to charge each separate family on a premises for water instead of just one rate to the property.

Several water users on the extreme east end of the township feel that they now should be relieved from paying double water rates as the waterworks authorities have expired. These users will be placed on the same basis as the rest of the township.

Fruit Farm Inspector G. C. Mould's report shows that diseased trees in the township are very few, being greatly decreased over previous years.

MINISTER OF LABOR

Premier George Drew officially recognized his leadership and administrative ability by appointing the St. Catharines mayor to the Ontario cabinet as Labor Minister.

At that time, Mr. Daley indicated that he would complete his term as mayor. During the past few days he has made known to council associates that he would resign. On Monday he stated, "I am resigning only because I cannot devote the time to the office that it deserves and which I have given to it over the past five years. In addition, there are many associate Boards which I feel council should be represented on and because of my provincial duties it is impossible for me to be in St. Catharines regularly."

The mayor has had a colorful and successful career as chief magistrate of St. Catharines. He has headed a council which during the past five years has materially reduced the tax rate, expanded the fire department, improved the city streets and other public services.

Another feature during his mayoralty was the notable visitors whom he welcomed to St. Catharines on behalf of the citizens. The visitors included Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth, several governor-generals, and Lt. Gen. McNaughton, chief of the Canadian Corps overseas.

Preparation for the landing of troops in North Africa involved alteration to over 300 ordinary merchant ships for use as troop carriers, floating work-shops, etc., all of which was completed in a short time and in the utmost secrecy.

We Have This ➤

ONTARIO PROVINCIAL CHARTER OF WEST LINCOLN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The Charter is a legal document essential for a group of people to constitute themselves a body to operate the hospital.

This provides for a Public General Hospital.

And We Can Get This . . . ➤

AND TO SERVE THE COMMUNITY WE HAVE THESE MEDICAL DOCTORS

For a long time the need of a hospital in this district has been keenly felt. A wide area has to be served by few doctors which means much hardship and delay both for the patient and doctor. This is more noticeable during bad weather when travelling is slow, especially in confinement cases and when an epidemic occurs.

Medical science is rapidly advancing and your physician has brought many of these advantages to your home, but, it is no longer possible to get full benefit of the rapid progress in medicine without a hospital.

DRESSING CARRIAGE

This dressing carriage together with accessories is another piece of equipment.

CRAFTSMAN OPERATING TABLE

This shows a very necessary piece of equipment in every hospital. Suitable for all types of operations.

The social progress of any community is measured by the services it renders to its citizens. What greater contribution can be made than the providing of facilities for the physical well-being of its people. The West Lincoln Memorial Hospital will be another milestone in the progress of the Community.

Jno. H. Leeds, M.D.

We need the Hospital for urgent cases and minor cases. Average cases can go to the City if we can find accommodation. The establishment of this Hospital will relieve to some extent other locations who have to build to accommodate the demands which now tax their capacity.

A. F. McIntyre, M.D.

Dr. Gordon A. Sinclair, (Overseas), who is looking forward to happier days, feels that this Hospital would fill a long felt want.

Official receipts will be mailed you for donations which will be honored by the Income Tax Department as a charitable donation.

A hospital should be a decided asset to the citizens of West Lincoln—a small well-equipped unit which would take care of minor accidents and maternity cases.

At present, I believe the most urgent need is to be adequate provision for maternity cases. These, with but few exceptions, could be cared for in a hospital as outlined.

Later, if, as appears possible, Health Insurance or State Medicine in some form creates a need for increased accommodation, further units and additional facilities can easily be added.

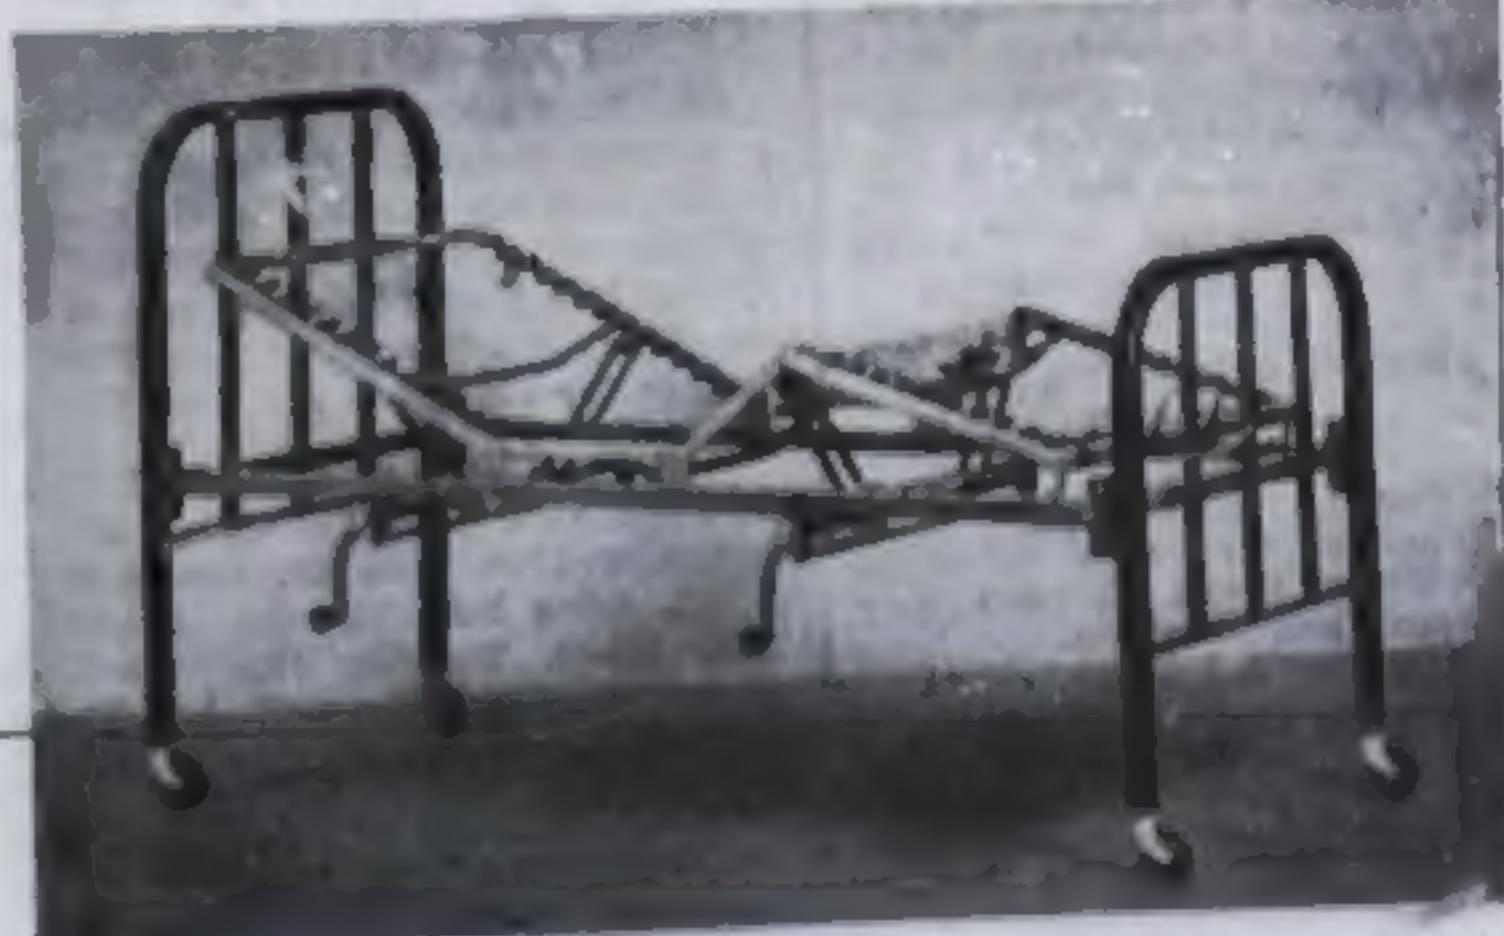

C. W. Elmore, M.B.

The opening of a Hospital will be the answer to many of our patients who ask the question, where are we to go. We are indeed fortunate to have this opportunity within our reach.

B. T. Rogers, B.A., M.D.

All monies paid in will be held in trust until the title to the property is transferred to the Hospital, and subscribers become the owners. Should any unforeseen matter prevent the project from maturing, all monies will be refunded.

REGULATION HOSPITAL BED

The regulation hospital bed is known to most everyone. The illustration shows some of the positions that this bed can be adjusted to. It is a very necessary piece of hospital equipment, where certain positions are desirable for the patient's rest and comfort.

Navy League News

Our headquarters (see advertisement) will be officially opened on Tuesday, the 21st, at 2 p.m., by Mayor Johnson, and thereafter every Tuesday and Friday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

On those days please bring in your magazines and books, dirty bags and worn out comforts.

In any case come in to see us even if you have nothing to bring. We want our headquarters to be the rallying point for all friends of the Navy and Merchant Marine.

Some people tell us the sailors get plenty of books and magazines. We wish to it were so. Here is an instance which will bear repeating. A Grimsby officer was coming home on leave on a sea tramp. Knowing the voyage would last several weeks, he asked for any magazines, etc., they might have on board. Alas! They were greeted by had neither a book nor a magazine. Nothing to do, nothing to read, so the only thing was to offer his services to the Captain, who permitted him to stand watch and watch with the other officers.

So long as this war goes on we must send a constant supply of comforts, dirty bags, books and magazines. All are equally important for the devoted merchant sailor.

We are grateful to Mr. Harold Johnson, who, during the long months since we started our work, day by day permits his office to be used for the storage of magazines and books no longer wanted.

CURTIS—LAMBERT

Trinity United Church, Grimsby, was prettily decorated with pink, white and yellow gladioli on Saturday afternoon, September 4th, when Rev. W. J. Watt united in marriage, Thelma Marion (Sammy) Lambert, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lambert, Gravenhurst, and George Leslie Curtis, Grimsby, youngest son of Mrs. and the late G. F. Curtis, of Tillsonburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a very becoming two-piece suit of bluish-grey wool with navy accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Margaret Lambert, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a two-piece suit of dark green wool with black accessories. Her corsage also was of yellow roses. Pilot Officer Robert Bruce, R.A.F., The Camp Gloucestershire, England, a graduate of Mount Hope, friend of the groom acted as best man.

The wedding music was played by Miss Annella Current at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for relatives and immediate friends, about 35 being present, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hunter, 24 Maple Avenue, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a short honeymoon and upon their return will take up residence in Grimsby.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in white brocaded satin, with double finger-tip embroidered veil and butterfly head-dress and orange blossoms. A strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, was her only ornament. She carried white gladioli.

Mrs. Arthur Woodcock, sister of the bride, was matron of honour, and the bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Merritt, sister of the groom, and Miss Dorothy Joyce Shelton, niece of the bride. All were dressed alike in white silk jersey, torso style, and carried pink gladioli. Miss Beverley Ann Woodcock, niece of the bride, made a charming flower girl in her frock of white not over white silk jersey, and carrying a nosegay of roses and gladioli.

The ceremony was conducted by The Hon. Capt. C. F. Atkins, padre of Canadian Forces. Mr. Lodge was at the organ. The hymns sung were "O Perfect Love" and "Lead Us Heavenly Father."

The bride who was given away by her father wore an ankle length dress of white taffeta with veil and head-dress of orange blossoms. She wore a gold locket sent by the Groom's parents from Canada and carried a bouquet of Carnations and ferns. She was attended by two maidens of honour, Mrs. A. E. East, her sister, who was dressed in blue taffeta with head-dress to match and Mrs. Dr. Whittier, aunt, dressed in pink taffeta with head-dress to match. Each carried a bouquet of Sweet Peas.

There were also two small attendants, Dorcas Whittier, niece of the bride who was dressed in pink taffeta and Doris Turner, a friend, who was dressed in blue taffeta with head-dresses to match. They carried posies of Carnations.

The duties of best man were carried out by Sapper A. E. East of the New Zealand Forces.

The happy couple left the church the bride was presented with lucky horse shoes by friends.

The reception was held at the Institute, about seventy guests being present, including a number of the bridegroom's pals. Numerous gifts and checks were received by the young couple who left shortly after the reception for a short honeymoon trip. Best wishes from East Moon are extended to the young bride and Canadian bridegroom.

FAIR—SEAMER

In St. John's Presbyterian Church, Grimsby, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 15th, at 4:30, Ella Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beamer, was united in marriage to Riflemen Lloyd Gage Fair, son of Mr. George Fair and the late Mrs. Fair, Grimsby Beach; Rev. O. Taylor Munro officiating.

The church was decked with gladioli, palms and ferns for the occasion.

Before the ceremony Mrs. J. Shields sang "Oh, Promises Ma," and during the signing of the register, "Because," accompanied by Mrs. M. Twoney.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of embossed white satin fashioned on princess lines. From her matching sweetheart halo fell a long trailing embroidered veil. She carried Better Times roses with bouvardia and rosebud shower, and wore the groom's gift, a locket.

The bride's attendants were Miss June Black, maid of honour, wearing baby pink organza with matching head-dress, and Miss Bernice Chase, bridesmaid, wearing blue sheer and matching head-dress. Both carried gladioli and bouvardia. The little flower girl, Myria Black, cousin of the bride, wore orchid sheer with matching head-dress and carried a nosegay.

of Joanna Hill roses, sweet peas and baby's breath. Each wore a sterling silver bracelet, the gift of the bride.

The groomsman was Riflemen Oscar Beamer, and the usher were Ross Beamer, Milton Krick and Ken Spencer, R.C.A.F.

A reception for 75 guests was held at the Village Inn, Grimsby, where the bride's mother received in black crepe and pink lace dress with black accessories and Joanna Hill roses. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Cox, sister of the groom, wearing blue crepe with pink rosebuds.

The young couple left by motor for points east, the bride travelling in a two piece ensemble of black crepe trimmed with turquoise blue. On their return the bride will remain in Grimsby and the groom will rejoin his unit.

MERRITT—SHELTON

A host of friends filled Trinity United Church on Saturday afternoon to witness the marriage of Dorothy Jane, daughter of Mrs. Shelton and the late William Shelton, to Flight-Lieut. Hugh J. L. Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Merritt, Smithville.

The bridal party entered the church to the measured strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by T. L. Dymond at the organ, and ranged themselves before a bank of pink and white gladioli encircling the platform.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in white brocaded satin, with double finger-tip embroidered veil and butterfly head-dress and orange blossoms. A strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, was her only ornament. She carried white gladioli.

Mrs. Arthur Woodcock, sister of the bride, was matron of honour, and the bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Merritt, sister of the groom, and Miss Dorothy Joyce Shelton, niece of the bride. All were dressed alike in white silk jersey, torso style, and carried pink gladioli. Miss Beverley Ann Woodcock, niece of the bride, made a charming flower girl in her frock of white not over white silk jersey, and carrying a nosegay of roses and gladioli.

Rev. W. J. Watt, pastor of the church, conducted the impressive ceremony joining the bride and groom in the bonds of holy wedlock, the bride being given in marriage by her brother, Clarence L. Shelton. The groom was supported by his brother, Cpl. Sidney Merritt, both in the uniform of the R.C.A.F.

Guests and relatives were ushered to their places by Leonard Lawson, St. Catharines, and Arthur Woodcock, the pews being marked by bows of white gauze ribbon in which were inserted pink gladioli tips.

During the signing of the register Mr. Jack Ansell sang "Through the Years." Before and following the ceremony Mr. Dymond played Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song."

Twenty guests attended the reception held after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woodcock, 32 Oak street. Out of town guests were present from Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Smithville, Burlington, Sudbury, Pa., and Buffalo, N.Y.

- The scratch of dry leaves as you walk through them.
- The feel of clean clothes.
- Water running into a bath.
- The cold of ice cream.
- Cool wind on a hot day.
- Climbing up and looking back.
- Honey in your mouth.
- Smell of a drug-store.
- Hot-water bottle in bed.
- Babies smiling.
- The feeling inside when you sing.
- Baby kittens.

Fall Outfit For Fifty Cents!

The autumn Rummage Sale season is in full swing, the first sale being held two weeks' ago, before August had been counted out of the circle of the year. Saturday saw the second of these highly profitable functions. Probably every Saturday from now on until the first day of December is booked; then there will be a lull until February begins, when the spring rummage sale season will open.

Some surprisingly good bargains may be picked up, and the clever girl or woman who has the knack of renovating and remodelling may outfit herself smartly from shoes to chapeau for a very small sum indeed.

We know someone who, within one week's time, will have two new long-sleeved blouses to wear; a blue and white striped one of silky cotton, the other a dressy white silk pique trimmed with narrow lace edging. Both will be made from discarded dresses that cost fifty-five cents for the two. The new blouses will be worth at least $4.50, and in addition have the advantage of fitting perfectly.

Within another week the same person will be stepping out in a well-tailored jumper skirt made from a long coat of fine brown worsted in check pattern. With it will be worn a blouse of ecru silk crepe trimmed with narrow bias bands cut from a scarf of striped silk in colours of brown, gold, red and green. The cost of the outfit was sixty-five cents. The result looks like a million dollars.

If one's taste runs to handbags, electric fixtures, gloves, kitchen utensils, pictures, skates, books or bathing suits, it can be satisfied at the Rummage Sale. All may be passed and some will be slightly damaged, but think of the possibilities!

Who promotes these rummage sales, and what do they do with the money? Women's church organizations are responsible for most of them, and the money might go towards the new organ fund, a carpet for the vestry, or for materials to clothe children in a mission school. The sales are held in the nearest vacant store to the heart of Main Street. Landlords are very good in granting ready permission to use their store. The only expense the women have is fifty cents for turning on the lights; and maybe another fifty cents for a length of clothes line on which to display the wares. Nobody ever seems to know what became of the clothesline they used last year.

Grow Your Own Silk Stockings

Down in New Jersey a sixteen acre farm is devoted to raising silkworms. Many attempts have been made to produce silk on this continent, but the cost of labour to unwind the cocoons was prohibitive. Moreover, there were not enough mulberry leaves in the country to feed the worms through the winter.

Finally Yankee ingenuity in the person of Mr. C. H. Gill got on the job, and an electrically driven machine to unwind the cocoons was invented. He has also worked out a way of keeping the eggs in cold storage through the winter.

The eggs hatch into tiny worms in twelve days, and begin at once to feed on the mulberry leaves placed over them as soon as they show signs of hatching. The worms are kept on open trays and make no attempt to wander away if they are given plenty of fresh leaves. They must, however, be protected from birds and other enemies.

The worms are given three square meals a day, the freshly cut mulberry leaves being placed over them on the trays. Very soon all the worms will have crawled up on the new leaves to feed. Old withered leaves are removed at each feeding.

The home-making urge begins when the worms are about 26 days old. They appear restless and refuse to eat. So each tray is supplied with a wall of coarse excelsior completely surrounding it. The worms crawl into this mass and spin cocoons.

Twelve days after the start of the first one, you begin to pick the cocoons out of the excelsior. After all are picked, send them off to the nearest laboratory where they will be subjected to high temperature to kill the worms. They are now ready for unwinding. Two hundred and forty cocoons sell for a dollar.

In Old Grimsby Town

Grimsby's ancient fane, St. James' Church, built about seven and a half centuries ago, is once again open to public worship. It is still suffering the scars of Hunnish bombs, but like the people of the parish it represents, it is carrying on with work essential to the nation.

Augustinian monks of the neighbouring abbey of Wellow are said to have been the builders. The church is, in its general outline, probably much the same as they designed it, but the austerity of the architecture of that day has been softened by the tracery of recently built windows, and the pile has been added to by the brighter aspect of the Memorial Chapel.

The tower, which is the glory of the church, standing as it does on pillars far more massive than is the general rule, has weathered the centuries and also the attacks of man. The clock, the chimes and hour strokes have withstood those attacks, they have continued their duties despite explosive crashes, reminding the inhabitants that the puny spite of man belongs to the temporal order, that there is something more profound in life, things that are eternal.

And the steady chiming of the clock and the regular beating of the hours may have helped many who have suffered the terrors of these war days, and may have reminded them that life will still go on, that the forces for good will prevail over the powers of evil.

St. James' Church has had a varied history. There were times when the parishioners scarcely regarded it with befitting reverence, probably because there were then two churches in the parish. We read that at one time part of it was used as a stable, and that at another period the local fire engine was housed there. But of later years it has attained its true dignity.

St. James' is not merely a church of one particular sect; it is in these days something far more than that. It stands right in the centre of Grimsby as a symbol of the spiritual life of the community. Each year it receives the newly appointed Mayor, with the members of the Council, at a service when their labours are dedicated. During this war, as during the last, it has been crowded by Grimsby people anxious to take part in prayers for the nation's cause, and we are all looking towards the day when, led by the Mayor the townfolk will once again gather there to render thanks for victory.

To-day St. James' is our great emblem, for in this war we are fighting not for gain, nor for territory, nor for glory, but for eternal realities, for things that are righteous, and the church is the emblem of our cause. The freedom of men to think and to act, in religious, political and social matters, has been challenged. We are fighting to maintain that freedom. There have been times when, through the darkness, we have looked almost hopelessly for a ray of hope. Even the church itself has suffered and to-day presents a sorry spectacle with the great gap in its north transept, with the beauty of its stained glass gone, with the light of the sky gleaming through the many crevices in its roof and with masonry scarred or demolished.

But to-day St. James' Church itself is fighting on in the spiritual cause; it is setting a glorious example. For a while our pity went out to it; now we are rejoicing, and we see in the restoration of the services there evidence of the victory that will assuredly come in the distant fields of battle.

When the last shot has been fired, the last enemy disarmed and victory brings the peace and content that all desire, then, having given thanks in this old church of ours, one duty will still remain—the duty of restoring St. James' Church to its full strength and beauty.

Butterfly—Born In A Bower

Butterflies are making the most of these sunny September days. Several varieties may be seen now for the first time.

We have just had our first sight of a Black Swallow-Tail in several years. He was hovering over a bed where apple blossom phlox still bloomed. This attractive butterfly which has a wing expanse of from three to three and a half inches is known by the blue markings on its hind-wings—two bright orange "eyes", and a double row of yellow spots around both fore and hind-wings.

In the earlier stages of its life Black Swallow-Tail was a yellow and black striped parsnip worm, often found, too, on celery, carrots and parsley. The butterfly feeds on the nectar of field and garden flowers.

Prices in Japan were frozen by ordinance at their levels of Sept. 1939.

Lions Vote $500 To New Hospital

"Sandy" Globe Tells Members And Guests That $6,000 Has Already Been Pledged Before Campaign Starts.

Lions Club held a special dinner meeting in the Village Inn on Tuesday night at which members of the Club, Municipal officials, members of the Clergy, executive members of the various ladies organizations were given a complete outline of the plans and financial set-up of the proposed West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

A. R. "Sandy" Globe explained all details of the project up to date and stated that the committee in charge already had $6,000 in hand before the campaign is opened. Full details of the hospital plan appear in this issue.

Lions Club, without a dissenting voice granted $500 to the hospital.

Lions wear in a very felicitous mood and presented that jovial Irish banker, "Mike" Hourigan with a lot of highly complimentary language and a fine leather brief case, on the eve of his departure for the Hinterland. He is being transferred to Guelph.

Miss Virginia Hewson and Douglas Dick, whose work as life guards at the local bathing beaches has been of a very high order were presented with cases of toilet accessories. Miss Hewson leaves on October 1st to join the R.C.A.F. (W.D.), and Miss Dick is going into training as a nurse.

At the board of education meeting last Wednesday it was decided to have medical examination of the 60 new high school students as early as possible and to have a check-up of as many of the other students as the committee, headed by Dr. A. F. McIntyre, thinks necessary. All students were examined last year to determine their fitness to take P.T. work.

Today it's a ton of coal. Tomorrow, a basket of grapes. At Christmas, neck ties. Last Spring, a lawnmower. Nearly every conceivable article bought in Canada is bought by a woman. It is estimated that women actually do 85% of the shopping in this country, according to the Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board. From bread to books, from Ilionium to lipstick, from rugs to robes—women do the shopping.

Deadline Set At November First For Parcel Mailing To Troops

Freed with the task of moving more Christmas mail to more Canadians in more corners of the world than ever before, the Post office Department announced today the deadline for parcel mailings will be Nov. 1.

Parcels mailed by that date—unless there is a mad rush at the last moment—will be delivered to Canadians in Sicily, Italy, Ceylon, North Africa, the United Kingdom, the Aleutians, the West Indies, or wherever else Canadians may be.

The mailing deadline is set 10 days earlier than in 1942.

Officials said Christmas mailings overseas last year amounted to 8,500,000 pounds, compared with 5,500,000 pounds in the previous year. This year, with more Canadian servicemen and women overseas, they anticipate a total mail load of about 10,000,000 pounds.

"We are suggesting that Canadians planning to get Christmas mail to their friends overseas get started as soon as possible," one official said.

"It is far better that a parcel be mailed in September or October with the assurance that it will be delivered in time—baring accidents beyond any control—that that the men overseas should be disappointed at Christmas by not receiving the expected gifts from home."

Officials said the Canadian Postal Corps had followed Canadian forces into Sicily and wherever else they went. Within two or three days of the Sicilian landings, in July, mail was moving to and from men in the front lines.

"At Christmas time our postal corps men will be with the Canadians wherever they are located," a spokesman said.

"This means that Christmas mail will move right up to the front line and be made available to men there without delay."

Saves Flannellets
Elimination of two-pant flannellets sleepers by a Price Board regulation is saving 36,000 yards yearly for more essential needs.

If you are a landlord renting accommodation by verbal or written agreement for one month or longer, you must submit to your nearest rental office a completed R.C.T.B. rental administration form. You must give a copy to your tenant, emphasizes the W.P.T.B. rental administration.

Another reason that bad news travels fast is because it doesn't travel on rubber tires.

QUANTITY OF MONEY and volume of credit are matters of high national monetary policy.

Canada's Chartered Banks exist to perform two main services:

1. They receive the savings and other funds of the public, who thus build up bank balances in the form of savings and current accounts.

2. They advance money to communities, enterprises and persons to serve their legitimate needs.

Along with these main functions the banks, through more than 3,000 branches and sub-agencies, render a large number of other important services related to local and national needs—services which have greatly increased as a result of the war.

But the quantity of money in existence in the country at any given time, and the volume of credit, are matters of high national monetary policy. The nation's own central bank, the Bank of Canada, determines them. The Bank of Canada makes extensive use of the Chartered Banks' facilities in giving effect to these policies.

The Chartered Banks' responsibility, clearly established and regulated by the Bank Act, is in the realm of commercial banking—that is, to receive deposits and to serve the needs of trade and industry.
